Before the start of Vistuliada, on Saturday, July 4, we are planning a full-day walking trip to Barania Mountain (1220 m a.s.l.) - to the sources of the Vistula.

From the bivouac in Bieruń Nowy to the place near Barania Mountain we will go and return together by bus (the cost of transport will be estimated based on the number of participants and paid separately). Ascent to the top, leading partly along Biała Wisłoka river and the famous Rodło Cascades, will take us about 2.5 hours (along the blue trail). The descent from the mountain, leading partly along Czarna Wisłoka is about 1 hour along the red trail and approx. 1,5 hours on the black trail. On the way down we will take a stop at the Przysłop shelter (there will be possibility to eat a meal).

The condition of taking part in this escapade, in addition to being able to walk for several hours on forest paths in the mountains, is to have appropriate footwear (the trail is not very difficult, but even small mountains are mountains, and you can expect paths with mud, stones and protruding roots on the trail) .
